Subject: Availability for a Red Hill check in call this week?

Hi Folks,

I'm back! And finally getting caught up on my emails. Thank you all for your hard work while I was on a very extended break- I hope to read through most of what you sent along today and tomorrow. I'd like to put together a one hour call this week if possible to touch base with everyone and get calibrated for our call with the Navy on the 13th. I'm primarily interested in getting everyone's feedback on the LNAPL presentation that Matt shared with you all, and preparing for how we would like to present our approach to the Navy. I'd also like to briefly touch base on the volcanics that Matt and Don were going to look at, as well as the visuals that Matt put together regarding DO.

Are folks available for a one hour call on Thursday between 8-11 Hawaii time, or Friday between 12-1 Hawaii time? If neither of those time frames work, please also share your availability for early next week.

Thanks,

Lyndsey Tu
